Trial Dancing Event Set for Auditorium Friday, December 3

The Torrance Servicemen's Foundation, a non-profit organization having the backing of local service clubs, is sponsoring its first dance for enjoyment of the young people of Torrance on Friday evening, Dec. 3, it was announced today.

Arrangements have been made with Ansil Hill, formerly of Balboa, to bring his 17-piece orchestra here for the occasion. The dance will be in the Civic Auditorium which was opened this week for youth activities after having been closed since Pearl Harbor.

A special effort was made to induce the musicians to come here for this "trial" dancing event at considerable expense. If the patronage proves adequate the orchestra may be retained for future dances, it was said.

Red Cross Plans to Recruit Staff Aides

"Staff aides of the American Red Cross."

This designation henceforth will describe the newest opportunity for women to serve their country through the American Red Cross.

Announcement of the inauguration of this service was made public this week by Guymer E. Newlin, chairman of the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter.

The new service of "Staff Aides" is open to women from 20 to 45 years of age. These women do not need to be of professional rank or social service workers, as formerly required of staff assistants, according to Newlin.

The regulation field gray uniform goes with the job, and assignments to foreign as well as domestic duty. Women applicants are advised to write to the personnel office, Pacific area, American Red Cross at San Francisco.

Men over 38 are also needed as field directors for the Red Cross, Newlin announced.

Dimout Signs on Coastal Highways Ordered Removed

Signposting crews from the Automobile Club of Southern California this week are scheduled to complete the dismantling of 5000 masonite signs marking the boundaries of the restricted headlight use zones between the Monterey county line and the Mexican border.

Installed a little more than a year ago, the insignia—reading "Dim Your Headlights" and "Turn On Headlights"—have served their purpose temporarily, according to word sent to the club by Lloyd M. Smith, acting regional director, O.C.D., Ninth Civilian Defense region, San Francisco.

The signs were installed originally to minimize the light thrown seaward by vehicles operating along the Southland coast.
